Enclosed are forms and bills relating to the debt owed by WFAD. The reason I cited the figure of $250 is because interest of 1½% added to the full amount of $300 until September, and then on $222 from September to February brings the bill somewhere close to $250. Alan's bill (which was $250) included a number of phone calls to Lincoln, Maine (which brought bill to $250) but I don't really think it necessary to include them.

Mr. Frank Delle
WLKN radio
Lincoln, Maine 04457

Dear Mr. Delle:

This letter will serve as the final notification to you of payment due us, before the matter is turned over to the college authorities and the college attorneys for default proceedings. As of this date, the amount currently owed to WRMC by WFAD is $313.50. The principal due is $300, while the $13.50 is the interest payments due us for four months of non-payment as per our signed contracts with the Station Manager of WFAD. We request that upon receipt of this letter that you make immediate payment to us in the full amount of $313.50 to avoid bringing attorneys into the matter.

Frankly, Mr. Delle, I consider your treatment of both WRMC and myself to be a personal affront. I do not particularly care for being hung upon in the midst of a business conversation. Moreover, it is most inconsiderate, to say the least, not to return a business call when requested to several times. I am not sure whether you consider dealing with college students makes it easier to disregard valid and legal agreements, but if that is true it certainly does not say much for your sense of ethics or of your business acumen. WRMC may be a college radio station, but at the same time we consider ourselves to be a business, as we have transactions with many different firms. WRMC, along these lines, pays its bills to its creditors and in return, we expect the same from the people for whom we perform services. This is not only common business courtesy, but a necessity if one is to successfully remain in business.

I am curious as to why you are willing to let WFAD suffer for your business policies. My understanding with your station manager was that no contract was to be entered into unless the money had been secured through advertising. That money was procured before the two contracts were signed by WRMC and WFAD. Despite our good relations with the staff of WFAD, we will be extremely apprehensive about entering into any further contract agreements with WFAD.

I reiterate that upon receipt of this letter that you make immediate remittance to us in the amount of $313.50.

Very truly yours,

Alan Levy
